

Why Should We Recycle?

by Martin Chipres

We should recycle for three reasons. First of all, we should recycle so that there isn't so much trash in the world. Recycling helps the world be a cleaner and healthier place. The second reason we should recycle is so that we don't have so much garbage going into landfills. When people throw away things, most of those things end up in a landfill and we are running out of space where to put all of our trash. Finally, I think that it is important to recycle because we can reuse things and not be so wasteful. By recycling paper, plastic, cardboard, bottles, and aluminum cans, we are helping to keep our world a clean and beautiful place. This is the kind of world that I want to live in.
