

Why Should We Recycle?

by, Yenifer Imperial

We should recycle so that we can help the environment. When you recycle, you are helping the planet be a better place to live. I think that people shouldn't throw away so much garbage because most of it ends up in a landfill. When you recycle, you are also helping make ^{can} sure that the landfill doesn't grow bigger everyday. We should try to recycle some of our garbage so that we ^{can} reuse it and make into new things. If you have plastic, glass containers, metal, paper, plastic bottles, or cardboard, you can recycle it by putting it into a recycling bin where the recycling truck can take it to a recycling factory where they take stuff you recycle and make it into new stuff. For example, if you have a glass bottle and you recycle it then, a glass factory can chop the glass into new glass. For these reasons, I think that recycling is a great way to help the world.
