
Name: Chris Caday Lozano

Occupation: Attorney/Accountant/Businessman

My goal is to find ways to solve the housing crisis, increase jobs and reduce crimes. I will support law and policies that will reduce all crimes, that will make our children in school safe, that will eliminate discrimination in housing, employment and criminal justice. I will find ways to market Hayward as an alternate site for companies in San Francisco to have more jobs in Hayward. I am a resident of Hayward for the last 15 years. I am an attorney with Juris Doctor degree and practices law for 21 years representing clients in immigration, bankruptcy and personal injury. I wrote a book in bankruptcy and a regular columnist on immigration matters. I am also a BBA graduate of accounting with graduate courses in Management. I established and manage a tax preparation business since 2013. I worked before as an accountant in school district and in big accounting firm. I also established and manage a Residential Care for Elderly since 2005. All of my experiences enable me to strategically move Hayward to a prosperous city.
